TALES & TOMES: SUMMER STORYTELLING SERIES

AT THE FERRIS COMMUNITY CENTER

The Brewer Public Library invites you to join the following authors this summer for an evening of history, song and intrigue!

Monday, June 24 (6:00 p.m. Conference Room)

Lynn McKenney Lydick brings Clara Barton to life in Follow the Cannon. Clarissa Harlow Barton, Clara, Born on Christmas Day, 1821, in North Oxford, Massachusetts earned the name Angel of the Battlefield for her limitless courageous and unfailing spirit in bringing supplies to the battlefields of the Civil War.

Friday, July 19 (6:00 p.m. Gymnasium)

Marc Black, NY Blues Hall of Fame inductee, will be your guide for a trip through the memorable and colorful decades of the 50's and 60's. This two person show is a multi-media and multi-dimensional presentation in song, storytelling and plenty of laughter. He embodies the confidence and originality that comes from his lifelong dedication to his craft. And to bring this exciting show all together, his wife, Susan, has created a unique visual presentation that perfectly complements Marc's music filled storytelling.

Monday, August 5 (7:00 p.m. Gymnasium)

Kristen Seavey, host of the Top 10 True Crime Podcast "Murder, She Told", will provide an evening of intrigue and insight into the crimes of Maine. This podcast was created out of a desire to dig deeper into true crime cases from New England that weren't being told on other podcasts in hopes of giving families a platform to have their voice heard, and heighten public awareness of unsolved crimes. Kristen is a credentialed victim's advocate, and a professional actor who has worked in film, TV, and theater across the country.
